GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

1. The aim of this Phase Five Logbook is to ensure consistent development of cadets undergoing Phase Five training. This logbook will assist cadets in Phase Five training by recording their participation in mandatory and complementary training, as well as the activities the cadet participates throughout the Phase Five training.
2. There are no limits to the number of attempts a cadet may be given to complete each task. Phase Five focuses on giving all cadets instruction and opportunities to develop knowledge and skills in a variety of subject areas.
3. This logbook is issued as an independent document to each cadet prior to the start of Phase Five. It is the responsibility of the cadets in Phase Five training to ensure that the Phase Five Logbook is completed and that an authorized person signs off each task upon completion.
4. The Phase Five logbook should be used to help organize Phase Five training, track progress, and to identify opportunities for development. If the Phase Five Logbook is used effectively, the Phase Five cadet is more likely to have a positive training experience.
5. Once the Phase Five Logbook is complete, it shall be returned to the Phase Five cadet. The Phase Five Logbook may be used as a record of service and a record of training.

Requirements and Standards

Attend four of the approved workshops.

Topic 2 Supervision

This workshop explores what it means to be a good supervisor and, more specifically, what to look for as a supervisor. Through various discussions and activities, this workshop provides the opportunity to recognize the importance of effective supervision. You will take a closer look at your supervisory responsibilities with regard to enforcing the rules and factors that affect supervisors and subordinates alike (eg, peer pressure). Additionally, you will take a look at some of the reasons why cadets leave the program, how these reasons may relate to supervision, and how you can help retain cadets in the program.

Topic 3

Ethics: Making Tough Choices

This workshop will provide opportunities to discuss ethics with your peers as it relates to your role as a cadet. It has been designed to include a discussion on what ethics is and how it is present in all aspects of life. You will work through case studies to examine your own perceptions of ethics and how ethical decision-making often requires making tough choices.

Topic 4

Corrective Action and Positive Reinforcement

This workshop challenges your perception of discipline within the Cadet Program. Corrective action and positive reinforcement should be seen as two sides of the same coin and applied equally to all subordinates. Topics such as appropriate corrective action, why we correct and the importance of positive reinforcement will be discussed along with your own personal experiences, both good and bad. Topics from Positive Social Relations for Youth will be discussed and you will participate in practical conflict management scenarios.

Topic 5

Dynamic Instruction

This workshop is designed to provide you with additional tools to deliver exciting and dynamic instruction. Activities focus on developing creative lesson plans and training aids, leading fun and exciting in-class activities and knowledgeably preparing for lessons.

Topic 7 Personality and Group Dynamics

This workshop explores the ways an individual's personality affects their learning and interaction with others. Discussions will include personality traits and types, how personality affects relationships and interactions, personality and why recognizing your own personality type allows for self-development. Activities will focus on simple tests and quizzes that can be used to self-identify personality.

Topic 8 Digital Responsibility

This workshop focuses on amplifying your sense of digital responsibility. The advent of social networking and communications advances has changed the risks youth face. Topics for discussion include cyber bullying, appropriate online communications, appropriate cellular communications and how to minimize one's digital footprint. Discussions about the legal ramifications of some topics will also occur.

Topic 9 Team Building

This workshop provides you with a toolkit to conduct team building activities. You will take part in a discussion based on why team building activities are valuable in maintaining morale. You will then work through activities that focus on different aspects of team building and will learn when to use them. The toolkit will allow you to lead the same team building activities at your corps.

Topic 10 Healthy Relationships

This workshop deals with the various relationships that senior cadets must make and maintain. Discussions on the difference between professional and personal relationships, as well as the need to establish relationships with subordinates, superiors and peers will be combined with activities dealing with transitional relationships and the impact of inappropriate relationships. The idea of a relationship between the cadet corps and the community will also be explored.

Topic 11Communication Tools

PO 514 PURSUE INDIVIDUAL LEARNING

Overview

This PO provides you with an opportunity to pursue a Cadet Program topic area using a personal learning plan to develop specialist skills. The participation and / or performance requirements are defined through an individual learning plan (ILP) that outlines a series of objectives to be met within your area of interest. The ILP is developed by you, in consultation with the Course Officer and Squadron Training Officer, and is approved by the Commanding Officer (CO). The provision of a goal setting opportunity allows you to pursue an area of personal interest related to the CP.

Requirements and Standard

1. Identify a topic area for your ILP. The topic area will come from the topic areas of the CP.
2. Complete the Individual Learning Plan form.
3. Identify a learning need. This is the objective of the ILP; what do you wish to learn in the topic area you identified? The learning need should be measurable and obtainable within the training time of Phase Five.
4. Identify a series of learning activities that will help you to reach your learning need. The activities should include activities within the CP as well as any activities that you can take part in at school, in the community, or on your own.
5. Identify any resources you will need in order to achieve your learning need. This does not have to be exhaustive but should include any items that may be required to achieve the learning need.
6. Identify a measure of success. This will indicate when the learning need is met. This may be a level or proficiency, a score, etc. The measure of success should be quantifiable and easily identifiable.

7. Identify how you will present the results of your ILP. The presentation can take many forms, such as:
- a report
 - a radio broadcast
 - a PowerPoint presentation
 - a lecture
 - a blog
 - a webpage
 - a video
 - a music composition
 - a photo journal
 - a visit or tour
8. For each learning activity on the ILP, complete the Individual Learning Plan Learning Activity form.
9. Refer to the Aim of the Cadet Program page of the logbook and identify which portion of the aim of the cadet program your learning activity supports.
10. Refer to the Participant Outcomes of the Cadet Program page of the logbook and identify which participant outcomes of the cadet program your learning activity supports. List only the actions on the form.
11. Indicate the start date, end date, and total time of your learning activity. The time may be represented in hours, days, weeks, or months depending on the learning activity. For example, attending as drill competition might be one or two days whereas participating in a sports team may be several months in duration.
12. Identify any resources required for your learning activity. This list should include any items required for the learning activity.
13. Create an action plan for the learning activity. What are the steps to make the activity happen? Are they things you can do yourself? Do you need to register or pay any fees? Try and make an action plan that maps the activity from planning to completion.

14. List any contacts for your activity. This could be people you need to contact or who may be in charge of the activity. If you need additional space for contacts, use the contact section at the end of the Phase Five Logbook.
15. Meet with the course officer / training officer and have them review your ILP. Make any changes they suggest. Ensure that the course officer / training officer completes all required sections of the logbook.
16. Have the course officer / training officer submit your ILP to the CO for approval.
17. Once the CO has approved your ILP, commence the learning activities.
18. Review the progress of your ILP during the time period of the ILP. Schedule two or three meetings with the course officer / training officer. As your ILP progresses, it may be necessary to make adjustments. Ensure that you meet with your course officer / training officer to review any adjustments to ensure you are still meeting the required outcome of the ILP.
19. Once you have completed the learning need identified in the ILP, prepare the final report of your ILP.
20. Present your ILP.
